

African Women, Gender, and Migration Conference

Tangier, Morocco
Thursday, June 9 and Friday, June 10

The African Feminist Initiative invites you to its annual conference on the theme of African women, gender, and migration to explore the way the global securitization of immigration has created new patterns of (im)mobility for African women migrants. The journeys for both authorized and "unauthorized" African migrants—the result of economic strife, civil wars, climate change, and more—show how gender plays a crucial role in women's migratory experiences. The aim of this conference is to address the gendered dynamics of (im)mobility and explore the ways in which African women navigate border crossing.

For more information and to access the program, visit afi.la.psu.edu/conferences/african-women-gender-and-migration-conference.

This publication is available in alternative media on request. Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status. Penn State encourages qualified persons with disabilities to participate in its programs and activities. If you anticipate needing any type of accommodation or have questions about the physical access provided, please contact Johey Verfaillie at juv12@psu.edu, in advance of your participation or visit. U.Ed. LBS 22-499